Geophysical Research Abstracts, Vol. 10, EGU2008-A-06452, 2008 SRef-ID: 1607-7962/gra/EGU2008-A-06452 EGU General Assembly 2008 © Author(s) 2008

GLOSS and the PSMSL

- T. Aarup (1), E. Bradshaw (2), L. Rickards (3)
- (1) Intergovernmental Oceanographic Commission, France (t.aarup@unesco.org / Phone +33 (0) 145 684019), (2) Proudman Oceanographic Laboratory, United Kingdom (elizb@bodc.ac.uk / +44 (0) 151 795 4871), (3) Proudman Oceanographic Laboratory, United Kingdom (ljr@bodc.ac.uk / +44 (0) 151 795 4897)

The Global Sea Level Observing System (GLOSS) was established in the mid-1980s by the IOC in order to improve the quality and quantity of Mean Sea Level data supplied to the PSMSL. Since the start of the GLOSS program there has been a close collaboration between GLOSS and PSMSL. This poster provides an overview of the development of GLOSS and the present areas of collaboration between GLOSS and the PSMSL.