

Towards an understanding of braking index

W. W. Zhu, R. X. Xu

School of physics, Peking University, Beijing 100871

The spindown of isolated pulsars against a fall back disk is investigated. A braking index between 1 and 3 should be expected in our calculations. This is consistent with the only six known braking indices of isolated pulsars. Second braking index has also been derived and discussed. The result could be used for testing of the pulsar models in the future.