

On the peak times of thermal and onothermal emissions in solar flares

Y. P. Li and W. Q. Gan

yplee@pmo.ac.cn

Based on a total of 859 samples observed with BATSE and GOES, we made a statistical study for the peak time differences between the SXR and HXR emissions. We present the results and discuss their significance.