

Orbit Determination using angular data from single satellite

Qb.gan,Jy.Ma,Bk.Lu

Purple Mountain Observatory (sh_lshine@163.com)

Use angular data from a satellite which is known well to determine any other objects passing by. So we can determine some unknown celestial bodies' orbits. From which, we can make the space circumstance clear. And it can insure the space security.