

Imaging the interaction of solar waves with a sunspot

L. Gizon

Max-Planck-Institut fuer Sonnensystemforschung

A new method to study the interaction of an f-mode wave packet with a sunspot is presented. This method enables to see the deformation of a specific wave train as it passes through the sunspot. A phase shift is detected.