

Analysis of the SMART-1 impact flash as seen from several observatories in Spain

J. L. Ortiz (1), J. Llorca (2), B. Foing (3), D. Koschny (3), J. M. Trigo-Rodriguez (4,5), J. J. Lopez-Moreno (1), F. J. Aceituno (1), P. Santos-Sanz (1), F. Moreno (1), N. Morales (1)

(1) Instituto de Astrofísica de Andalucía CSIC, (2) Institut de tècniques Energètiques, Univ. Politècnica de Catalunya, (3) ESA Space Science Dept. ESTEC, (4) Institut de Ciències de l'Espai CSIC, (5) Institut d'Estudis Espacials de Catalunya

The first results of our scheduled SMART-1 impact observations from Calar Alto, Sierra Nevada and other observatories in Spain are presented. The emphasis is made on the determination of the luminous efficiency of the impact at different wavelength ranges from the optical to the near infrared.