

Extreme activity high energy events in stars

G. Micela

INAF Osservatorio Astr. di Palermo

I will review our knowledge on the extreme stellar events as observed in X-ray band. In particular I will discuss the properties of large flares observed in different types of stars including pre-main sequence, young main sequence, solar-aged stars and dM stars.